Let's Start!

Time for Dessert! Hmmm!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information involving apologies, thanks, suggestions and invitations in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What is your favorite dessert?
- What dessert do you order in a restaurant? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about food.
- I can say what I would want and/or prefer to do.
- I can ask and respond to who, what, when, where, why, and how questions.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally order dessert. What kind?

* A "dessert" (say: diZERT) is something we eat after the meal. A desert (say: DEzert) is an area with sand and no trees.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Waitress: Did you enjoy your meal?
Peter: That was great pizza!
Sally: I loved my salad.
Waitress: Excellent. Anything else? Coffee? Dessert?
Peter: Should we have dessert?
Sally: I don't know ... The desserts here are so rich.
Peter: But they're so good! What do you want to do?
Sally: I would prefer to share a dessert.
Peter: That's a good idea. Could we see the dessert menu, please?
Waitress: Of course. Here you go.
Peter: Hmm ... Chocolate cake ... Maple syrup pudding ... Frozen yogurt.
Sally: What kinds of frozen yogurt can we get?
Waitress: We have orange and strawberry.
Peter: Which flavor do you want?
Sally: I would rather get a piece of chocolate cake. With two forks, please!
Waitress: Right away.
Peter: Could I have more water, please?
Waitress: Yes, of course.

Let's Practice!

Sally and Peter talk about desserts.

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

Learning Points

Wh-Questions

You use Wh-questions to get specific information. You can use Wh-question words in questions with modals like can.

When you ask Wh-questions with verbs, you use do (except for the verb to be) or a modal like can.

Words can be placed after the question word to make it more specific, like What kind of ... or What flavor of ...

Verbs like want and prefer are followed by another verb in the infinitive form (to + verb).

Wh-Question Word	Specific Information
What	a thing
When	a time or date
Where	a place
Why	a reason
Who	a person

Examples:

- When can you come?
- Where do you want to go?
- What do you prefer to do?
- What kinds of ice cream do you have?
- Where are you going?
